✓ Captain J.E. Bernier's Contribution to Canadian Sovereignty in the Arctic

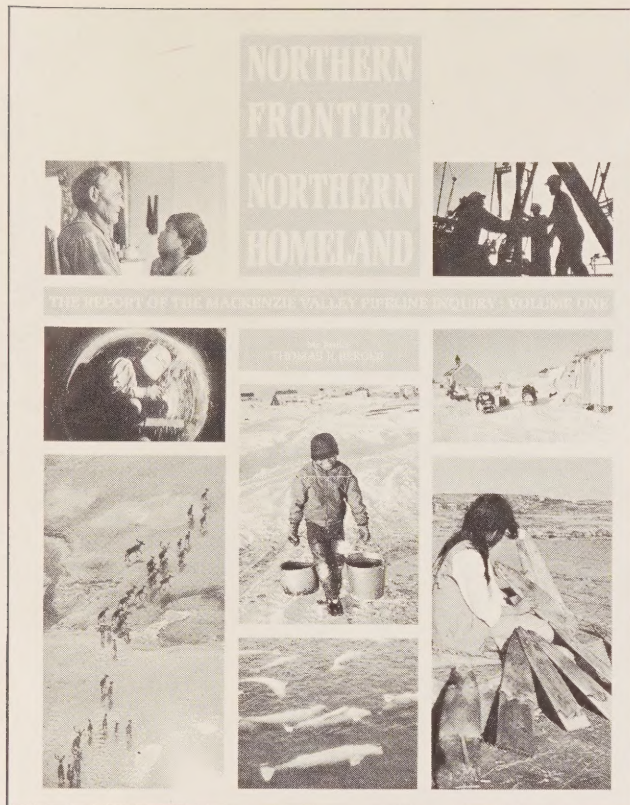

By Yolande Dorion-Robitaille

A historical biography of one of Canada's least-known explorers, Captain Joseph E. Bernier, who took command of one of his father's ships at the age of 17, became between the years 1904-1925 one of the most instrumental persons in history to protect Canada's sovereignty in the Arctic.

His thirst for Arctic adventure and secret desire to reach the geographic North Pole led him on most of his sovereignty exploration trips mainly because he was unable to finance a Pole expedition.

Alaska Highway Pipeline Inquiry

Kenneth M. Lysyk, Chairman
Edith E. Bohmer
Willard L. Phelps

✓ Alaska Highway Pipeline Inquiry

A report by a three-person commission, chaired Kenneth M. Lysyk, which investigated the sociological and economic impact that the construction of a natural gas pipeline across Yukon would have on both native and white populations.

Considerations of the commission include: employment opportunities for Yukoners, native land claims, a lateral pipeline along the new Dempster highway to tap Canadian Arctic gas fields and what regulations should be imposed during construction.
